This data is representing 1,005 adults in the United States in September 2015 who reported their favorite season. According to studyfinds.org many people pick Fall as their favorite season for a multitude of reasons, not just the weather. Over 50% of people in the U.S. like Fall due to the changing leaves while 41% enjoy the chill in the air. What other reasons might someone like Fall? What is your favorite season? What about this data surprises you?
